

Thank you for that information. Patient's Name: [Patient's Name]
Reason for Visit: You will see a patient complaining of headaches.
Personal Environment: The patient works as a remote software developer, spending approximately 8 hours daily in front of screens from 9 to 5, with a regular desk and chair setup. Regarding physical activity, the patient occasionally plays football, which indicates some level of physical fitness. The patient has a regular sleep pattern but lives with a wife and four noisy children, which could potentially impact stress levels and rest quality. The combination of intensive screen time during work hours and a busy family life with four children might be relevant factors to consider when evaluating the headache complaints. END_DATA_COLLECTION
